CENA SAWMER, an Indian constable, deposed was on duty in Queen's Road about four o'clock on the afternoon of the 27th April, when I observed the prisoner proceeding at a rapid rate to the Westward, increasing his pace when he saw me approaching; he had a bulky bundle with him. I followed and stonged bim. The prisoner said "No! No!" and threw the buildle at my fect and ran, away; I pursued and captured him, bringing him back to the bundle which I made him open, and found it to contain a number of Runges, some of which I sounded and found to be bad. I took him to the Charge Room, where in searching the bundle we discovered besides 300 rupees, one hundred Dollars also counterfeit; two good Dollars and some broken silver were found in his purse. Cross-examined, - Prisoner did not see me before saw him, What I stated ut the Police Court was true: I did not say there that I retained my hold of the prisoner from the first. LUM Sing, shroff at the Police Court, proved that all the Coins were counterfeit that the Dollars were what are termed "skin copper dollars worth about ten cents, and "skin" runces 4 or 5

·Cross examined: He never knew that it is custowary to buy bad dollars for ten centr. Shroffs do keep bad Dollars of various kinds for the purpose of teaching their pupils. I was taught to value a "skin dollar" at ten cents, but L de not know that they are ever sold The prisoner's defence before the Magistrate wa put in in ovidence for the prosecution, which was that he had the day previous come down from Canton where he had collected the counterfeit coin from various places and brought them to Hongkong to try and sell them, but not to utter Mr Myburgh for the defence contended that the prisoner had been guilty of no offence against the law. That a very lucrative trade is carried on in Cunton in selling bad dollars as counterfeit at their intrinsic value, and he would be able to prove that such was the manner in which the prisoner intended to dispose of them, and was unaware at the time that he was committing any offence. He called Lo-Bong-Pinga carpenter, who deposed : Pri soner is my brother and lives in Canton, this is the first time he has visited Hongkong.
